

The twelve days of Christmas.

On the first day of Christmas funny fibbing fathers flapped their feathers to funny places.

On the second day of Christmas seven silly sarcastic snakes safely slithered to San Diego.

On the third day of Christmas three thirsty thinkers thought about going to the thrift store.

On the fourth day of Christmas four fire fighters found funny fantastic flying fish.

On the fifth day of Christmas four frogs flattened fifty-five fat flamingos

On the sixth day of Christmas Santa slipped on syrup and sadly sat on a six-year-old girl named Sally.

On the seventh day of Christmas Sue sat on Santa's silly short soft shedding snakes.

On the eighth day of Christmas eighty-eight eagles excitingly drank all the eggnog

On the ninth day of Christmas nineteen nice but negative elves took a ninety-hour nap.

On the tenth day of Christmas twenty-two tiny tap dancers took time to tap a Christmas song.

On the eleventh day of Christmas eighty elephants got in an elevator to see the elegant elves.

On the twelfth day of Christmas twelve tweedy birds tweeted on their twinkly toes.

By Mackenzie Snell